

Ardis Lerner, Director

The Senior Support Services-CPHC (SSS-CPHC) Board of Directors was pleased to welcome Ardis Lerner, elected to the Board on July 10-2024.

Ardis retired from the Federal Government where she was employed for many years working in various capacities. As a Senior Business Analyst, she worked with the Department of National Defence; the Government Operations Centre Transformation Initiatives where she was responsible for various initiatives including DND business applications; Security Services; was the Section Head for Information Technology (IT) Security Services supporting the secure operation of the department's national information systems; safety; risk management, etc.

Ardis also brings skills and interest in the areas of law, finance, fundraising, advocacy, Corporate Governance, Strategic Planning, and Outreach/Networking.

As a volunteer in recent years, with the Arts Culture and Heritage Advisory Committee and Housing Advisory Committee for the Municipality of North Grenville, Ardis has utilized her skills in advocacy, finance, research, and policy development. Ardis is dedicated to advocating for affordable housing, particularly for seniors, in her community.

The Board of Directors are pleased to welcome, Ardis' knowledge, skills and experience to their diverse complement. Her passion for seniors, and awareness of the issues and challenges the face while trying to 'age in place', will be most valuable to many and her advocacy most valuable to the organization, clients and caregivers.
